

Program PlantLink Day 2018

Wednesday 12 September 12.00-16.30, Blå hallen, Ekologihuset, Lund

12:00-13:00 Lunch (if registered)

13:00-13:10 "PlantLink during the last year" Tina D'Hertefeld, PlantLink/LU

13:10-13:50 "The quest for climate smart varieties: phenotyping the banana biodiversity present in the gene bank" Sebastien Carpentier, KU Leuven/Bioversity International

13:50-14:05 "Remote sensing of vegetation phenology and productivity" Lars Eklundh, LU

14:05-14:15 "NordPlant" Erik Alexandersson, PlantLink/SLU

14:15-14:30 "The RadiMax facility" Kristian Thorup-Kristensen, University of Copenhagen

14:30-15:00 Coffee and tea

15:00-15:10 "GroGrund – a new competence center for plant breeding" Eva Johansson, SLU

15:10-15:50 "Urban nature – Nature-based solution for urban challenges" Johanna Alkan Olsson, LU

15:50-16:05 "Plant Phytologist's new journal Plants, People, Planet" Dawn Sanders, Gothenburg University and editor at PPP

16:05-16:25 "Urban agriculture and research possibilities" Kristina Santén, SLU

16:25-16:30 "Lund University Plant Sciences (LUPS) – a new network for plant researchers", Olivier Van Aken, LU

16:30-16:35 Wrap-up

Plant phenotyping
for future climates

Plant, People and Society